

November 2, 2001

Published on FIDEL Soldier of Ideas (<http://www.fidelcastroruz.biz>)

“The economic crisis also means the aggravation of major problems that are far from being solved: poverty, hunger and disease, which kill tens of millions of people in the world every year; illiteracy, lack of education, unemployment, and the exploitation of millions of children through child labor and prostitution; the trafficking and consumption of drugs, which mobilizes and absorbs hundreds of billions of dollars; money laundering; the lack of drinking water; the scarcity of housing, hospitals, communications, schools and educational facilities.”

References to the original: Televised presentation on the present international situation, the economic and world crisis and its impact on Cuba, November 2, 2001

Source URL: <http://www.fidelcastroruz.biz/en/citas/november-2-2001-0?page=0%2C11%2C0%2C0%2C0%2C0%2C0%2C4%2C1>